

Mandatory Air

Mandatory Air is an 8-piece, high energy band fueled by two extremely talented singers: the Miller Sisters. Influenced by rock, funk, soul and R&B, the band has a large and eclectic repertoire of cover songs as well as many of their own originals, and can tailor a show for almost any occasion.

The band has been playing to sold out audiences since 2004 and boasts an impressive lineup of talented musicians. Out front are Candice and Karlee Miller, who engage the audience throughout each performance with their electrified, inviting stage presence and soulful, resonant vocals. The band also includes bass guitar, drums, percussion, keyboards, lead guitar and rhythm guitar giving the band a full rock and roll sound. There is always something happening both musically and visually that will captivate the audience.

Mandatory Air has won the gold medal for Best of Jackson Hole (best band) in 2009 and 2010, and recently won the Battle of the Bands competition, which landed them on stage at the Targhee Music Festival in the summer of 2010.
